"Thanksgiving Day."

This Annual American festival, which is generally celebrated with good cheer, and by all others is the most devoted to family re-union, and, we trust, to grateful hearts for blessings enjoyed, has again appeared. Although the origin of this festival (as its present name and form, at least,) is to be found among our early puritan ancestors of New England, with whom it had a deeper and more solemn import than with us, in consequence of the ever present dangers by which they were surrounded, and although it was formerly confined almost exclusively to New England, it has now secured an adoption in nearly all the States of the Union, and become one of our national institutions. It is but a few years since its introduction into the Southern States, but it is now almost universally adopted; there and its true intent and import appear to be well appreciated. A Southern cotemporary remarks that "the religious exercises prompt themselves to the devotional feelings of those who have much to be grateful for, and no sad observances to those who have much to enjoy. The earnest and thankful acceptance of praise for countless voices sailed—the temperate and grateful enjoyment of the abundance—and the imparting of a portion of our abundance to the less fortunate than ourselves, —these are the practical precepts of the day, and are teachings that cannot be too deeply studied. The prayers and praise of the temple, the social joys of home, the interchange of hospitalities, the re-union of families and the remembrance of the poor and needy, give scope to the highest, holiest and most charitable impulses of the heart, and unite in giving to the day those characteristics of sacred and comfortable observance that have placed it among the first of the holydays, to which we look with pleasure.

In accordance with the usual custom, we shall omit the publication of a daily paper on Friday morning.

A Great Operation.—The most magnificent speculation recorded in modern times, is one recently made by Emile Reniere, President of the Credit Mobilier, of Paris. This distinguished financier entered recently into negotiation with the gas companies now supplying Paris with light, purchasing the whole of them for 85,000,000 francs, or about $17,000,000. He then procured from the Emperor, a concession or charter of consolidation, converting the whole into one Company. The charter and property he afterwards deposited of to his company (Credit Mobilier) for the sum of 150,000,000 francs, thus realizing a profit of 65,000,000 francs, or $13,000,000. How much Louis Napoleon made out of it is not known, but it is believed the government officials participated handsomely in this nice little affair. The Credit Mobilier is a great banking institution, chartered since the return of the present Emperor having a capital, of $12 000 000, and designed to operate in stocks, merchandise, paper, property, and credits of every description. It at present holds $100,000,000 of securities and has in its vaults cash values amounting to $40 000,000.

A Tunnel Beneath the English Channel is said, will in five years' time connect Dover and Boulogne. M. Payne, a distinguished French Engineer, has lately been employed in surveying the neighboring coasts and taking soundings, with a view of immediately carrying out this magnificent project. These soundings show that the soil is very favorable to such an undertaking, free stone having been found at a certain depth. As impracticable as this scheme may appear, calculations of its expense have been actually made, and plans for its execution devised. The length of the tunnel will be about eighteen and a half miles, and its cost per yard $5.39—amounting, in round numbers, to $20,000 000. An atmospheric railroad is intended to be established, in order to avoid the smoke consequent on the use of ordinary locomotives. The estimates of the produce of this submarine railway are based on the supposition that 200,000 passengers now travel backwards and forwards annually between France and England. The company calculate that their transport of coal will amount at least to 10,000 000 of tons yearly; and that the ships that now annually enter the Harbors of Calais, Boulogne and Dunkirk with a tonnage of 400 000 tons, will yield a greater portion of their traffic to this railroad.

The Republican Vote in New York.—In reply to pioneer of the Albany Atlas (Soft organ,) about the defeat of the Republican ticket, the Evening Journal asks "whether it becomes the Argus, while doing the heavy business of a party coming third best out of the contest—a party which, but for the votes and money of the Liquor Dealers would have been nowhere, to talk about 'enthusiasm?' Take from the Softs the incidental support received in New York, Brooklyn, Albany and Buffalo, and it is beaten out of sight by the Hards! And drop New York and Brooklyn out of the canvass and the Republican Ticket in all the other counties, is triumphantly ahead. In the State excluding New York and Brooklyn, the Republican Ticket has received from eight to ten thousand more votes than the Know Nothings and beats the Softs more than twenty five thousand in its first campaign."

The Disturbance at Bath.—Neil Stimpson, arrested on charge of being engaged in the disturbances at the laying of the corner stone of the Catholic Church in Bath, has been bound over in $200, for trial in April.

The City Solicitor stated his belief that no political party was engaged in the disturbance, but that it was the act of a few misguided persons, who, under pretence that the Sabbath would be violated by the Catholics, gathered to accomplish purposes of their own.

City Council.—At a meeting of the City Council last evening (), a currency of the two boards was formed, the offices of City Marshal and other offices.

Elijah Low was elected City Marshal and Constable, and also commissioner of [illegible] complaints against truant children.

S. F. Humphrey was then elected Superintending School [illegible] a member of the Committee [illegible] ken for Tythingman, and I. D. Bartlett was seen at the second ballot. Mr. Bartlett was declared by yeas and nays, as Tythingman was then [illegible] effectively postponed.

An order was passed for the payment of conveyance for the re-payment to George Weston (attorney of Robert Rice and Nathaniel Polsom) of $52, being a remittance of the amount of taxes from 1844 to 1854, on 15-16 ths of Lot No. 93 Holland's plan.

In Board of Aldermen—J. B. Wilbee, John W. Robinson and Wm. S. Gilman, were removed from the offices of City Watchmen.—These were the only watchmen who held their offices under an election by the Board.

Daniel Green and Alvah Osgood were chosen as Traverse Jurors for the January Term of the S. J. Court.

In Common Council—The Report of the Investigating Committee was accepted in concurrence.

Winter upon us.—The cold snap which came so suddenly upon us on Monday still continues up to the time of this writing, (Wednesday evening) with a strong prospect of closing up the river at once. On Tuesday night the ice formed entirely across, but was broken up by the next ebb. Anchor ice was running yesterday, and in a short time commenced in the afternoon, it looks very much as if we should have a speedy close of navigation. A large number of vessels cleared yesterday, but there are still many remaining, and there is a good deal of lumber yet unshipped from, what of time.

The weather moderated during the night, and there appears now no immediate apprehension of the closing of the river.

The Steamer Boston moved here yesterday, about her usual hours but on account of the doubtful state of the rivers as to the return to Frankfort, after discharging. She will leave that place for Boston at, twelve o'clock to-day.

We understand that a man, whose name we did not learn, drifted down river yesterday in an ice spoon a raft of lumber. When but in sight, a man saw him he was near Bald Hill Cove, hemmed in by ice that it was supposed he would be obliged to remain upon the raft all night.

Thanksgiving Services.—The First Parish in Hammond Street Schoolhouse meet and forenoon with the Central Society on French street. Sermon will be by Rev. Mr. Harris.

Thanksgiving.—The City Missionary has distributed for Thanksgiving the following articles: 52 turkeys, 40 geese, 123 fine chickens and 22 bolognas. Expense $91.84.

The commercial marine of the world, (with the exception of China, Japan, and one or two other eastern nations) is estimated by Hunt's Merchant's Magazine, at 5,000 vessels of all descriptions, with an aggregate tonnage of 15,000,000. At $60 a ton, the above fleet of shipping would amount to $675,000,000. The United States have a tonnage of 5,661 416, or more than one third of the whole. Great Britain and her colonies come next in amount having 5,043 270 tons—and the next largest amount is for France, which has only 716,130 tons. The United States and Great Britain own two thirds of the navigation of the world.

The Louisville Journal, speaking of Nativism in Kentucky, says the ranks of the Know Nothings are ground against the admission of Reder. It hopes he will be refused a seat in Congress, by the united vote of the Southern Democrats and Americans. That, however, will not be enough, unless they can manage to secure twenty eight Northern democratic votes. We trust that this can't be done, and that the elections of the past two years have sufficiently broken them to stand fire. But we shall see.—Atlas

Rather Sharp.—The United States Service Gazette says.—However much the authorities deserved censure for their neglect of the troops at the opening of the campaign, they are now determined to supply everything that may be required. At the present time there are very elegant black horses standing at the tower to be shipped for Sebastopol.

Breakwater at Rockland, Me.—The Rockland Gazette says that an attempt is to be made at the coming session of Congress to secure an appropriation for a breakwater in Rockland harbor, to protect the wharves and shipping from the effects of easterly storms, which often cause much damage.

Death of Hon. Stephen Stark.—This gentleman, who, it will be remembered made an attempt upon his life, two or three months since, by jumping into the river at Waterville, an act of insanity, died at the Maine Asylum for the Insane, on the 18th inst. His age was 52.

Reported Defalcation.—Major Hammond, late Collector of San Francisco, is reported to be deficient to a large amount. Dr. Maynard of Washington and the late Capt. Folsom were his sureties.

The Somerset & Kennebec Railroad recommenced running yesterday. In future the P. & K. Road will ticket passengers over either the S. & K. or A. & K. Roads.

Death of a Baltimorean.—Leonard Jarvis, long and favorably known as a merchant and commercial citizen of Baltimore, died on the 16th inst., at the age of 75.

Fire in St. Paul, Minnesota.—On the 9th inst. the grocery store of Mr. H. C. Sanford in St. Paul, was destroyed by fire. Loss $20,000. No insurance.

Miss Betty Pierpoint has been re-elected U. S. Senator from Alabama.

The Grand Deliberator.—A pocket Umbrella!—Umbrellas have at last taken to the dignity of property—of personal property, at least—for they may now be snugly deposited in the coat pocket, and buttoned out of the reach of open enemies or insidious friends. The latest and most important invention of the age is the "Patent Portable Umbrella"—which will soon become as inseparable from the traveller as his carpet-bag, valise, or overcoat. We adopt the following description from a Keene Sentinel paper, which speaks of the article in enthusiastic terms:

"You can fold it up as you would a two foot rule, and place it in your vest, or pocket without trouble or inconvenience. By a series of joints in the handle and stick, the work of folding or unfolding a Bone in a moment, and instead of weakening the umbrella, the joints serve to make everything strong and secure, so that there is no danger of its turning wrong side out by a sudden gust of wind. Umbrellas of all fabrics, from the finest silk to the common blue cotton, are now made in this style, and, what is better than all for the investor, they have the patent stamped upon them.

No one can fail of appreciating this article, and we doubt not it will eventually come into general use.

Messrs. Harris, Tangeman & Co. have the sole right to sell this new patent in this city. They have received their first invoice for the market, and will be happy to convince the public of the truth of our remarks concerning the "Portable Umbrella."

Light Houses on our Coast.—We observe that the Eastport and St. John papers are earnestly deprecating the changes which it is said are about to be made in our Lighthouses. The following from the Eastport Sentinel embodies the objections:

"It has been stated to us by some of our most experienced ship masters and pilots, that there is danger that the proposed changes in the character of the lights on our coast, may in principle, in instances, turn out not to be improvements, but on the contrary, be an actual injury, and have a tendency to mislead the mariner. It is said that the new Thatcher light, in appearance, as seen in thick weather, resembles so much a 'revolving light,' that they would be mistaken for each other, and therefore should not be placed near together. Two instances are mentioned, on the coast of Maine, where the pilots think the proposed change will be an injury—1st Cape Elizabeth light is made a 4 sth light. It is about nine miles from Wood Island light which is revolving. If by the similarity a pilot should mistake one for the other, the effect might be disastrous. 2nd Petit Menan light is to be made a 'third light.' It is said this is so near the revolving light on Moose peco that it will be mistaken for it.

Another Attempt to Rob a Bank.—We learn from the Springfield Republican that on Sunday evening as Thomas H. Sargent, clerk of the Pynchon Bank, Springfield, was going into the bank for the night, and just as he placed the key in the door, he was roughly seized by two men, who had evidently been waiting his coming in the dark passage at the top of the stairs in the banking house going on the second floor. They asked him what he was doing, and where he cashier lived. He boldly refused to tell them, replacing the key in his pocket, and demanded what business they had there. Mr. Sargent then said they would show him, and brought a knife or some other sharp instrument to his breast. It penetrated his coat, but struck a thick wallet which was in the breast pocket, and consequently scratched the flesh, but did not penetrate the wallet. Mr. Sargent then shouted "murder" loudly, and the fellows fled down the back stairs, pursued by Sargent, who snapped a pistol at them. Mr. Sargent shows a slight scratch on his breast and severely scratched face of rough usage and a struggle. He believed, for no stranger man—he is but 19 years old—with great courage. A day or two previous, two suspicious characters entered the bank on some frivolous pretext, and after their departure the outside door was found marked opposite the hinges.

A Good Arrangement.—On Monday last a new arrangement was entered into by the roads east and west of Portland, by which passengers may be ticketed through from Bangor to Boston over the Kennebec and Portland, or Androscoggin and Kennebec as they may prefer. We remember some time since (in our issue of July 22 1854) we expressed our belief that such an arrangement would be entered into, sooner or later. And now we wish one more improvement might be adopted, viz. That through tickets, dated at some of the Southern Democrat and Americans. That, however, will not be enough, unless they can manage to secure twenty eight Northern democratic votes. We trust that this can't be done, and that the elections of the past two years have sufficiently broken them to stand fire. But we shall see.—Atlas

The Produce Market.—The Pacific's advices have had no perceptible effect on the breadstuff market, and, notwithstanding the declining tendency of prices on the other side, holders are unwilling to accede to any concession. There are large orders here for flour and wheat, both for Great Britain and the Continent, but prices being above the limits of shippers they are unexecutable for the present.—The sales for export yesterday were quite light, the difficulty attending the negotiation of exchange having the effect to restrict business materially. The receipts of flour and grain are large, but the bulk is in the hands of monopolists, whose interest is to sustain prices, and hence the firmness. Freights are dull, but rates are nominal.—N. Y. Express, 20th.

Broken Arrested.—New York, Nov. 20.—Wm. A. Beecher, a broker at 14 Ann street, was arrested yesterday charged with having by false and fraudulent representations defrauded Mr. Thomas W. Wood of Brooklyn out of $7000. The representations were that Mr. Beecher was worth $300,000 and that his wife had $160,000, and that certain stocks which he had given as collateral security for the money loaned, were at par or nearly so, all of which statements are now charged to be false. Beecher was held to bail in $10,000 to wait examination.

Something of a Tax.—The shippers of gold from California to New York have paid between three and four millions of dollars to the New York Insurance Companies in the last five years, while the aggregate losses of the insurers have not exceeded two hundred thousand dollars. Messrs. P. Sather & Co. of this city, have paid for insurance over $200,000. We understand there is a combined effort pending among the bankers to get the rate reduced from 1, 2 to 1 per cent, the latter figure being the rate at which the English companies offer to insure.—N. Y. Mirror.

Western Mail.—We are requested by the obliging clerks in the Post Office to state that there is but one Western mail a day from this city, and that that leaves by stage at 7 o'clock in the evening. The mail closes as heretofore at 6.—Journal.

Not a Rose But.—A worthless bank-note is described as having for its vignette a female sitting by a hay stack with a rake in her lap. We are glad to learn that this bill is a counterfeit.

An Always and everywhere [illegible] took place for [illegible] these vexatious [illegible] candidates [illegible] hours, [illegible] countenances [illegible] looking [illegible] direction [illegible] ture age [illegible] couples [illegible] "Heaven [illegible] Among [illegible] and white [illegible] tongues [illegible] gentlemen [illegible] brunette [illegible] exclaiming [illegible] all the [illegible] a lady [illegible] choice [illegible] course [illegible] acquire [illegible] prehend [illegible] scene, [illegible] gentlemen [illegible] with an [illegible] of the fun [illegible] ment which [illegible] to] on [illegible] plan here [illegible] was [illegible] A crowd [illegible] the scene [illegible] audience, [illegible] to Paris [illegible] that you [illegible] tended but [illegible] to go yourself, then, your [illegible] to Toulouse, which would [illegible] night." "Not [illegible] now—it is [illegible] "Not at all—I wish to see them now."

The parcel was untied. It contained a silk dress, a lace [illegible] and a magnificent French cashmere. "I was [illegible] deed! you do things in fine [illegible] I never [illegible] aware that you had so much [illegible] lady, with a [illegible] new you so generous,' said the [illegible] ern accent. Adieu! Monsieur Adolphe [illegible] om impeded obliged to you." The husband [illegible] wife departed, the one sighing, the other [illegible] smiling, and the lookers on much diverted [illegible] the scene of Parisian comedy in which, as usual, the husband was in the wrong.

Monsieur Adolphe was doubtless a very "nice young man, [illegible] and would have taken every care of the lady he [illegible] her husband not accidentally turned up, [illegible] we have no doubt that he (the husband) was very glad to relieve him of the "responsibility." The affair was funny enough as it turned out, but it might have proved no laughing matter.—Jeb Monsieur B.—Paris Journal.

Lumber and Other Building Materials.—The work of building in the city during the summer, although very heavy, was not so extensive as was expected, and this, with the recent stringency in the money market, and other causes, have had a depressing influence on the market for spruce and other descriptions of manufactured lumber. Yet very little effect upon lumber, the prices of which, owing to natural circumstances, have yielded but slightly. The supply in the whole sale market is about a hundred millions of feet less than that of the previous season. The lumbermen finding that hay and grain, with their high prices, would pay them better, neglected the lumber business to a certain extent, and turned their attention to agricultural pursuits, which accounts for the falling off in supply as compared to last year. The reciprocity treaty with Canada has not as yet affected the trade in this article, but in the course of a year or two when the necessary arrangements for shipping &c., shall have been made, the supply from that quarter will be considerable, and probably have a tendency to reduce the present high rates. The supply of ordinary lumber in our market is large, and must continue so until spring, but the better qualities are rather scarce and firm at the high prices of last spring. There will scarcely be any material change until calculations are made upon next year's supply and the prospects of building.

The market for bricks, lime, and similar materials, has fallen off eight or ten per cent, as compared with April last, but as the prospects of building improvements in the city next summer are considerable good, (owing to increased confidence in real estate as an investment,) holders anticipate a return of former prices.—New York Courier.

More Yankee Knee. Some years ago an old sign painter who was very cross, very gruff, and a little odd, was engaged to paint the Ten Commandments on some tablets in a church not five miles from Buffalo. He worked two days at it, and at the close of the second day the pastor of the church came in to see how the work progressed. The old man stood by, smoking a short pipe, as the reverend gentleman read his eye over the tablets.

"Eh," said the pastor, as his familiar eye detected something wrong in the wording of the fifth precept; "why you careless old person, you have left a part of one of the commandments entirely out; don't you see?"

"No! no such thing," said the old man, putting on his spectacles; "no, nothing left out—where?"

"Why, there," persisted the pastor, "here, look at them in the Bible, you have left some of the commandments out."

"Well, what if I have?" said old obstinacy, as he ran his eye complacently over his work, "what if I have? There's more there now than you'll keep!"

Deficiency of Breadstuffs in the United Kingdom.—A By Card, "an experienced writer on statistics," says that the apparent deficiency to be applied to the United Kingdom from abroad is 2,012,500 quarters, which is little more than one-half of the average annual importation of the last five years.

Dictionarial Advertisements.—We hear the spirit of "John Stubbs," who thus addresses the Boston Transcript:

"I am no more matters, a conservative—one, sibly what is called an old fogy. Hdon't like many of the new fangled ways of the present day. Just now I am annoyed by impertinent advertisements that thrust themselves on my notice in every newspaper, and blazoned on posters on every wall. I haven't lived in Boston sixty-four years and seven months to be ordered to "Read Alex Lee," "Visit Oak Hall," "Take Smithkins's Bitters, or "See Forrest in Macbeth." I won't do any such thing. What right has anybody to adopt this imperative mood in this sort of style? I thought it bad enough when some scoundrel of a shoemaker used to catch the fellow painted in an unpleasantly conspicuous manner, on the front of my dwelling. "We all take Hundrum s Liver Pills and Dyspeptic Syrup," a most atrocious falsehood, by the way, for neither I, my wife, nor either of my children ever heard of the vile nostrum before. I got rid of that nuisance, however, much to Mrs. Stubbs's satisfaction, but now my temper is daily ruffled by laconic instructions to do this, and to do that. Again I tell the impertinent originators of these edicts that I won't do any such thing. No! not I.

If things go on at the rate, we shall soon be threatened, in print with a horse whipping if we don't read the last mawkish novel, or swallow the latest invention of quackery. Per pro. I set my face like a flint against such proceedings.

Your exasperated friend,
John Stubbs

"A joke goes a great way in the country," said Sidney Smith. "I have known one last pretty well to seventy-six. I remember making a joke after a meeting of the clergy, of Yorkshire, where the Rev. Mr. Buckle was living, that he was a buckle without a tongue. Most persons at him hearing laughed, but my next neighbor sat unmoved and sunk into thought. At last, a quarter of an hour after we had all done, he suddenly nudged me, exclaiming—'Sydney, now that you mention a joke—Yes sir,' I said 'I believe I did.' Upon which he began laughing so heartily that I thought he would choke, and was compelled to put him on the pump."

Fine Epitaph.—On a sailor's grave-stone, in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, are the following words to be seen:—"Nobly he did his duty below, and now has gone aloft."

Spinal Complaints.—To treat Spinal Complaints successfully, and to do it without inflicting pain and suffering upon the patient (which is always done at the expense of the general health,) has long been a desideratum with the medical profession. That this is now effected with the use of the Shepherds Spring is certain, and any one sceptical upon the subject will be furnished with the names and residences of those thus treated, who have been afflicted, from a brief period only, to that of over fifty years, with whom they can consult, and satisfy themselves in regard to the beneficial results of this mode of treatment, and the correctness of the above statement. This system of treatment is not only adapted to any adult person, but to the young and tender infant, and will prevent or correct in them, without pain or inconvenience, what, if neglected would ultimately become formidable and hideous. Consultation at Office, 241 Washington street, Boston. Free of charge. See advertisement of Dr. J. A. Wood, in another column.

Miss Jane Lasell, died Oct 25th 185—. To the revived who mourn her early departure, these lines are inscribed

Lonely, lonely, all the day,
Lonely household now
Bloodless child, God's money play,
Thou initial recal young brow—
Kneepads by hech the step falls,
Wrist are soft and low,
Silent is the voice of mirth,
By my fireside now.
Shadows are upon our hearts,
Lasell cannot forget us
Smile has left each pallid cheek—
Laughter glory is gone.

Pillowed on gentle mother's elbow,
Sighed for gentle heart,
Quiet smiles play around the lips
Last Lasell may never part—
Folded on her silent heart,
Her pale little hands lay still,
Happy in their quiet now,
Freed from every ill.

Dropped we not the fearful quoit,
Ere our strokes it passed
Until unbroken, she in drawn
Last long, long breath—her last.
Still, peaceful is the smile
On her little features,
Lasell reads [illegible] parent's [illegible]
And sweet [illegible] [illegible]—
That in the [illegible] bright day,
The spirit's [illegible] was that
And darkening [illegible] red, and sought
Adolphe [illegible] home with "Him."

Weary, weary while the hour
Of twilight drawn [illegible]
Listen we with fingers in, Hope,
Her [illegible] tones to hear—
To feel her warm breath on each brow,
Her [illegible] kiss to greet,
Our father's coming [illegible]—
Family [illegible] meeting hearts[illegible]
Again to hear her voice,
Seraph-tones her home to God,
Whose at [illegible] rejoice—
Still, when [illegible] gift to us came,
I fancy, that I hear [illegible] times
My grieving spirit [illegible],
And [illegible] and the earnest words
Until my [illegible] ears
Till I can [illegible] confidence deep,
Her spirit is present to hear

"Father guide [illegible] little ones,
Keep them in thy love—
Which their parents [illegible] the world
Their erring footsteps rove.

She is upon my precious ones,
Guide their hearts aright,
Lasell ever, ever be
Stainless in the sight

Lasell—now is mother's feet
know their [illegible] so sure
Father, call them home at last
Where best tasks are o'er.

SINGER'S
SEWING MACHINES.
THESE machines have the highest reputation of any in the market, and are awarded to them at the Fairs of Industry in all the principal cities of the Union. Work can be done upon them with improvements that cannot be done by any other machine in use. They will run without noise with a speed double the ordinary machine, and do as much work can be done in the same time. The greatest variety of work can be done on them, from the finest material to the coarsest, and every piece of work is done in a superior manner. Before you purchase any other machine, call and examine the Singer, and see the many worthless machines and patents which are now being sold at Auction, and by peddlers, and which will run only a few months, and are then thrown aside as useless. Sewing machines of every description repaired, and all work warranted. Also, agent for Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE

NORTH STAR,

AT NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 21, P. M.

The steamer North Star arrived here this morning. She left Cowes Road at day-light on the 4th, and brings the second mail of Saturday's London, Times, and 317 passengers, among whom are Col. Carr, United States Minister, and Gen. Scott and F. K. Cumming.

No additional news of importance.

Later from China.

The London Times contains the letters from China received by the overland mail.

A large and heavy armed piratical fleet had been observed to the northward of Shanghai, but nothing of importance had occurred.

The Imperial troops were making progress in recovering the Taeping Buttery. Nineteen new Consuls had arrived for which exequaturs had been asked.

The tea crop was very short, and the quality of Canton silk was very inferior. At Shanghai the export market had slightly improved, and the rate of exchange was advanced. Business had been done in raw silk at advanced prices.

Advices from Foochow are to the 27th August. The tea crop was about one-half of the usual amount, and that of silk one-quarter of 6 mace per pound. Business had declined during the month.

Four vessels had cleared for America.

Rates Hong Kong to Sept 15th.

Freights had declined and the passenger traffic to Australia and California was almost ruined, in consequence of the restrictive measures adopted there against Chinese immigration.

The United States Steamer Powhatan and Sloop of War Vandalia were at Hong Kong.

Advices from Macedonia to Shanghai.

Fire in St. John.

St. John, N. B. Nov. 21.

A fire broke out in Carleton, St. John, about 1 o'clock this morning. Five dwellings and a store were destroyed. Estimated value, $7,000; insured for $2,000.

Later from Rio.

New York, Nov. 21.

Lt. Rinald has a letter from the Rio Janeiro correspondent, dated October 9th. Cholera had committed dreadful ravages in the province of Bahia, and rising the coast. In Rio de Janeiro it had also appeared, but was not of a very malignant character. The number of deaths in the Imperial city for the month, on the 9th of October, amounted to 1,000 of the population of Rio were dead, many but the disease was fast disappearing. The slave population had suffered severely. The shipping was still healthy.

The new coffee crop was in light and prices had again advanced. There was a large supply of sugar on hand, and rates were likely to decline.

The brig Kingston, of Halifax, from Philadelphia, for Boston, with a cargo of cement and sugar, was totally lost on Cape Antonio on the 2d inst. Cargo a total loss.

Almost a Bank Failure.

Boston, Nov. 21st.

The Bank Commissioners and several representatives of other City Banks, to-day examined into the condition of the Grocers' Bank. A report being started that he did suspend payment on its bills. It was found that the bank was but temporarily, caused by a rather injudicious extension of loans; and this after Banks loaned as $100,000, which placed in payment and safe position.

No Steamer.

HALIFAX, Nov. 21.

11 o'clock P. M. No signs of the steamer. It is snowing hard and is now quite thick.

Wisconsin Election.

GALENA, Nov. 21.

Returns from all but two counties in Wisconsin, under the election of Bashford, Republican, for Governor, unheard from, the Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.

Mr Buchanan, in his despatches to the Government, states that professions of friendship towards the U. S. were never more strongly expressed by the British Cabinet than now.

The government having six years ago instituted a suit against Wm. B. Scott, formerly Navy Agent at Washington, to recover an alleged balance on the settlement of his accounts, the suit this afternoon, in the Circuit Court, resulted a verdict of nearly $18,000, in favor of the Government.

Markets.

NEW YORK, 21st.

Sugars quiet.

Molasses inactive.

BURNED. The dwelling house of Loring Tilson Winthrop, was entered on Thursday night last, and $100 taken from his wallet, in room where he and his wife were sleeping. James Robbins, a colored barber, was detected stealing cloth from an adjoining clothing store in Augusta, on Sunday last. He had been a good character for several years previous. He was committed to jail. So says the Maine Farmer.

Take to Edward's Express for Boston every afternoon at Tuesday.

DE GUISON'S IMPROVED

Non-Explosive Camphene & Fluid

LAMPS and CANS.

HAVING purchased the Patent right for the State of Maine for the above Lamps, I am now prepared to offer them to purchasers in every variety, adapted to the use of Parlors, Churches, Stores, Factories, Vessels, Steamboats and Railroads.

These Lamps are constructed on scientific and philosophical principles, and are the only sure preventive against explosions from Camphene and Burning Fluids, being made of the most durable material, not subject to accidents from breakage or corrosion—burn perfectly without smoke, giving an equal and steady light, (the nearest to gas ever produced.)

The above Lamps have proved, after three years' trial, to be the best Lamps in use, giving universal satisfaction, and proving perfectly safe.

These Lamps will be sold at wholesale or retail as low as the cheapest Camphene and Fluid Lamp, by J. SIRICHER, 15 Main Street, Bangor, Me., dealer in Lamps, Chans, Glass, and Crockery Ware.

California Steamers,

Carrying the United States Mail.

5th and 20th of each Month.

Reduced Prices 100 lbs Baggage Free.

Through Tickets to Sacramento, Front of the Fashions, via Panama R. R.

By order of the Postmaster General, the United States Mail Steamship line of Mail Steamers for the present month will leave New York as follows, viz: on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without a change. This is the only line giving entire through tickets, including the passage across the Isthmus.

Meals and state room berths, extra, are not included in your fares, although they are charged in the through tickets issued in other books in New York, and on the Pacific and Isthmus lines.

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U S Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama on the 5th of each month immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers, thus securing passengers by the Mail Line a short passage without any detention on the Isthmus.

Through Tickets to San Francisco, including Meals and State Room berths, can now be procured at Panama, from Agents of the Company, on the arrival of the steamer from New York. This arrangement will be found of great convenience to passengers, as it obviates the necessity of purchasing tickets in New York, and thus avoids the delay and inconvenience of waiting for the Mail Steamer to arrive.

For further information apply at the Company's office, 56 Wall street, corner of William, New York, or at the office of the Company at Panama.
